Many Guests Expected Here Mother's Day

Blanche Dow to Give Welcome To Visitors in Assembly Tomorrow Morning

PROGRAM IS COMPLETED

A large number of mothers are expected to arrive in Maryville early tomorrow morning for the annual Mother's Day, at which time they will be given opportunities to learn the activities, both scholastic and athletic of their sons and daughters enrolled in the College.

A big day is in prospect for students' mothers, beginning with registration at 9 o'clock Friday morning and continuing all day until the close of the chorus and a capella program in the College auditorium that evening.

A special Mother's Day assembly will be held at 11 o'clock in the auditorium at which Dr. J. W. Hake will preside. The program will consist of violin duet by June Ernst and Hattie Richards; devotions, led by Mrs. Langland; student welcome by Mrs. McCartney; piano solo by Edith Tyson; and the morning address to the mothers given by Dr. Blanche Dow, who will speak on "Parents and Colleges."

The toastmaster at the luncheon, which will be served at 12:30 o'clock at Residence Hall, will be Dr. O. Myking Mehue, chairman of the committee for Mother's Day. Dinner speeches will be made by Mrs. Dora B. Smith, Gara Williams and one of the student's mothers.

The mothers will be invited to attend a tea to be held at Residence Hall between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. For the evening meal, mothers will eat with their sons and daughters.

At the Theaters

AT THE TIVOLI

Thursday—Held over, "Adventures of Tom Sawyer." Don't miss it.

Friday and Saturday, double feature—Lee Tracy, Joan Woodbury in "Crashing Hollywood," and John Wayne in "Adventure's End," a melodrama of pearl diving, also Andy Clyde in "Old Raid Mule."

Sat. Owl Show and Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Katharine Hepburn, Cary Grant, Charlie Ruggles in "Bringing Up Baby." Cary Grant and Katharine Hepburn are another new comedy team which should be a good combination. The show is rated high among late comedy classics. While both stars have already become famous in separate productions, they should have even greater success working as a team.

Friday, May 13th is the lucky day when "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" will appear at the Tivoli.

AT THE MISSOURI

Thursday—Peter Lorre in "Mr. Moto's Gamble."

Friday and Saturday—Gene Autrey in "Boots and Saddles."

Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl

Florence George, former Chicago Civic Opera singer, has been chosen as the "Dream Girl" of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity for 1938, it was announced today.

The announcement was made by D. T. Oertel, secretary of the general arrangements committee of the 1938 convention of the fraternity. Miss George was chosen for the honor by the supreme Council and the committee, Oertel said.

She will serve as hostess to the convention when it meets in Hollywood next August and will appear at several sessions of the convention. The blonde opera singer, who makes her screen debut in Paramount's "College Swing," is Alpha Delta Pi of Wittenburg College. She took her degree in music at the Chicago conservatory.

Miss George made her opera debut in "Rigoletto" with the Chicago Civic Opera company last season. A movie scout saw her and her tested for a screen contract. The test was so successful that she was awarded a long term contract.

She also has been successful on the radio, but left the air working in the picture.

MRS. WILLIAM E. HULL

Who, before her marriage April 26 was Dorothy Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Olsen of St. Joseph. She eloped with William E. Hull for Sacramento, Calif., where the couple was married. Hull is the son of Probate Judge and Mrs. M. J. Hull of Maryville.

Mrs. Hull was a junior in the College, and Mr. Hull was a sophomore. She was a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and he was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. Both were very popular students on the campus here.

ried until he met his eighth wife. Needless to say Claudette Colbert his eighth wife, made life so exciting for him that he gave up the idea of any further matrimonial adventures. Also on the stage—Saturday and Sunday at 9:30—30 kiddies in music dancing, and singing.

The average Birmingham-Southern College student spends 23.1 hours per week reading, 16.3 hours of which is on required reading.

KFEQ Officials are Pleased With C.H. English Broadcast

College High Is Asked to Present One Program Each Month Over Radio During 1938-39

Perhaps many future stars of "airwaves" may be found in College High school, because:

A group of high school English students last Sunday afternoon made a trip to St. Joseph to broadcast over the radio a program on the subject of the "Horace Mann Laboratory School," which they will attend next year. A short time before the trip, a Radio Guild organized in C.H.S., and the broadcasters made mention of that over the ether waves.

KFEQ officials expressed praise of the program, and a Miss Hazel Burns, English supervisor in the local high school, since a Radio Guild had been organized here if it would not be possible for College high student broadcast from St. Joseph at once each month next year.

Perhaps in a year or two, College high personages as Duff, Mary Elizabeth Price, Dorothy Johnson, Evelyn Marsh, Garrett and Charles Hartsoough, be operating over national hook under big-time contracts, and a large-sized pay check on Saturday night.

Miss Hazel Burns, Mildred Freeman, Alice Hanna, Edwin Tyson, Katherine Schulte, Margaret Porter and Erick Schneider, instructors in English department, accompanied the group to St. Joseph in the college bus. Others who made the were Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. William McMullin, Dorothy Fox and Herschel Bryant.

Large Crowd Attends Production of "Hay Fever" Class Play

Seniors Present Outstanding Success of Current Year Thursday Evening in Auditorium

By MARJORIE McALLISTER
Member, Missourian Staff

A large crowd filled the College auditorium Thursday night, April 4, for the production of "Hay Fever," the Senior play of 1938.

The curtain parted at 8 p.m., revealing the Bliss living room where the entire action took place. The first act was a summer's afternoon. Simon and Sorel threw the audience into fits of laughter as they staged a good brother and sister encounter.

The act progressed and the balm was dropped when Judith announced an extended invitation. This started the ball rolling and soon all four members confessed their week-end visit and also their intention to leave their guest in the Japanese room.

Things became extremely complicated when the guests began to arrive. It became a big task to explain the family peculiarities. Simon soon became the student of the guests—supposedly! The curtain rang down on Act One as they met over the wagon.

Act Two, lights dimmed, and the audience hushed for the breaking of the evening tumble. The scene, the same of the same day, the family gathered in the living room with their guests hopelessly attempting to provide entertainment by playing a game. At last they resorted to quiet conversing, but perhaps not so quiet for startling things did happen. For instance—everyone became engaged. As Judith lamented, "life had dealt another blow."

In her theatrical crisis she fought from the whole situation out by June as the explanation of the circumstances. She gallantly surrendered each one saying, "The time has come for the dividing of the property." The whole thing appeared to be another one of Judith's stage acts being acted. At the crest of the crisis when all were gathered in the living room, they lapsed into a full of absurd drama and the curtain swung to.

Last curtain going up, breakfast ready and waiting, but only for a short time for Sandy Tyrell, a guest, appeared in and proceeded rapidly to devour his portion; so at to escape the mad house, Jackie Coryton accompanied him and the two came greatly concerned with the hic-cups. Other guests appeared and plans are made for escape. A family comes to breakfast having forgotten their company, for they had completed his novel. They tumble into another mad scene bringing down the curtain on the last act—the hit of the sea-execute the designs originated by graduate students of the State Teachers' College at Milwaukee.

Miss DeLuce also visited other points of interest at Milwaukee in addition to the meeting and the PWA project, including the Layton Art Gallery, Milwaukee Art Institute, and Milwaukee Downer College.

The theme of the meeting of the Western Arts Association was "The Arts at Work in Education." One of the principal speakers was Mr. Richard Bach, who opened the general session. Mr. Bach writes regularly for the Metropolitan Museum publications and is interested in industrial design.

Dr. Laszlo Maholy-Nagy, another of the speakers, is an extreme modernist, believing that design should be based on a knowledge of material.

Miss Ruth Reeves, director of the assembling of the Index of Modern Design, spoke on "The Index, the Most Significant American Reference for Art."

Dr. Herlitz Tells Students of Sweden And Its Democracy

Professor in University of Stockholm Speaks at Regular College Assembly

"The people are more thoroughly represented in the Swedish government than in most democracies of today," stated Dr. Nils Herlitz, professor of public law at the University of Stockholm, Sweden, in an address given Monday, April 25, at the regular College assembly. Dr. Herlitz said that this was true because "the government itself is made up of farmers, workers and small business men with a minimum of capitalists. Their social level is not much higher than the masses, in which illiteracy has been completely abolished."

Dr. Herlitz said, "A popular type of government has existed in Sweden since primitive times." The House of Representatives recently celebrated its 500th anniversary, which sets the date of a democratic form of government several hundred years before the American democracy was established, he told the audience.

He continued, "The collective influence in Sweden is not great. The Swedish government, working publicly has been spared the worst influences of money."

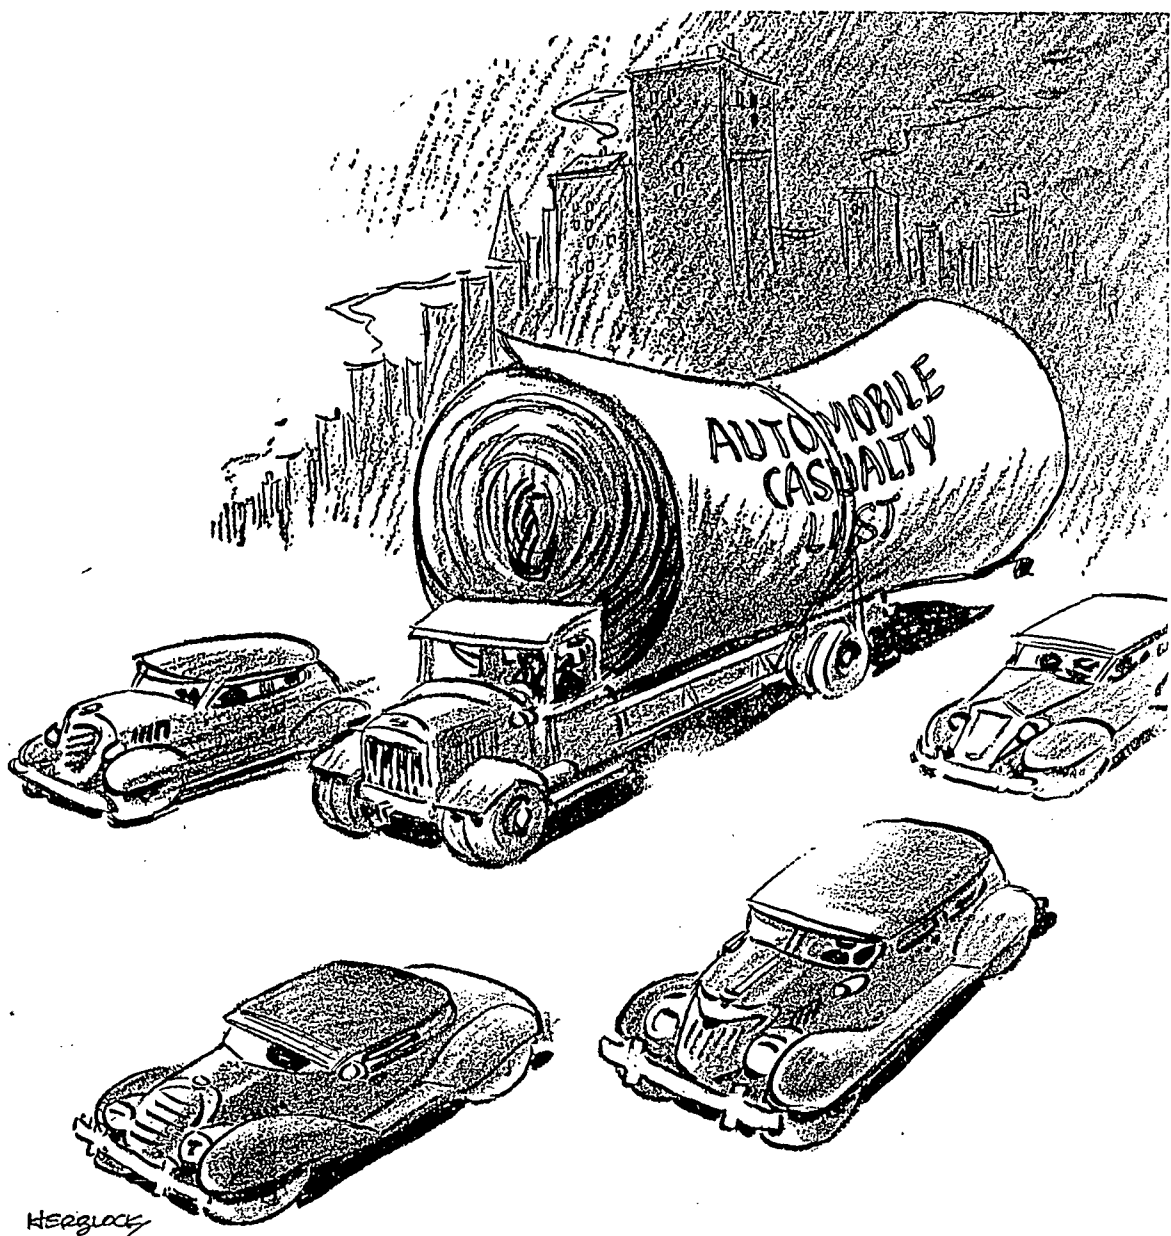

In his discussion of the effect on private life of state and municipal government, he said, "very little is said in the constitution concerning individual freedom and it has been little affected by an almost universal movement for freedom. Property rights of individuals are respected but not mentioned in the constitution."

"The mutual interdependence of people in the villages has caused a natural restriction on property rights, which have been made definite by the government. The government puts restrictions on property rights to aid conservation and to keep the land in the hands of farmers, excluding large stock holding companies."

In regard to liquor restrictions, Dr. Herlitz said, "Although we have escaped the difficulties of prohibition, we do have limitations on liquor traffic. There is a restriction on the amount which can be purchased by individuals and if the use of liquor is abused, their right to buy it will be taken from them."

"In regard to the freedom of expression and press there is an unlimited margin. No restrictions are placed on public meeting or expression."

In Sweden, the government controls all public utilities and welfare projects. Enterprises that are important to all the people have always been controlled by the government. The state government provides communication facilities, such as highways, railways, telephone, telegraph and radio broadcasting, all government owned and operated.

Dr. Herlitz continued by saying that "municipal governments control local public utilities, such as gasworks, tramways, and electricity. Hospitals and medical care are provided by the government, in which the best medical men in Sweden are at the service of the public at a moderate price. Education and the church are also state institutions."

"The citizen is dependent on the state and has to accept what it offers. The public is apparently satisfied with the state of affairs and the present arrangement has nothing to fear from a movement for more freedom. The type of government is not considered socialism and incorporates none of its theories. The system has simply always existed for the convenience of the people."

In speaking of relief in Sweden, Dr. Herlitz said, "the basis of all relief is the poor law. We have an accident insurance act, labor act, unemployment relief, pension for disabled or aged, and agriculture adjustment for the relief of the farmer. By agriculture adjustment the farmer has been made another cog in the sodality of the state."

"The system of law has always inspired general confidence in the government. Justice is administered in a system of lower courts composed of lawyers and laymen. Laymen are familiar with law and act as a permanent jury. Law is not a secret science but is familiar to all. A statute book is issued each year which contains all statutes and a copy is found in almost every home." Dr. Herlitz said that the laws and statutes were written in such language that anyone can read and understand them.

He continued by saying that "all documents of the courts are open to the public and are produced on demand. By this means the position of the people is strengthened. The trial of cases of the citizen against the government are tried in an administrative court of appeals."

strative court of appeals."

Dr. Herlitz came to the College from the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis and from Maryville, he went to Columbia where he was to speak at the University of Missouri. He then went directly to the West Coast to speak at the University of California at Berkeley. From there Dr. Herlitz will return to Washington, D. C. and then go to Harvard University, his last stop before returning to Sweden.

MEHUS SPEAKS ON PEACE

"The outlook for world peace is much more hopeful today than it was a few weeks ago," declared Dr. O. Myking Mehus of the department of sociology at the College in an address he made at the Christian church at Bethany, Harrison county, last Sunday morning, May 1.

Dr. Mehus spoke on "The Church and World Peace." "The last world war proved to every thinking person that we cannot get peace by making war," Dr. Mehus told the congregation. "Peace can be built only on good will and peace and understanding."

College Gets $22,316 for Local Campus

Improvement Project Is Given Approval by President and WPA Officials

TO IMPROVE ATHLETIC FIELD

President Uel W. Lamkin last week announced that federal approval has been granted and $22,316.40 in WPA funds have been released for use by the College in a campus improvement project.

Presidential approval was received by President Lamkin one week ago Monday. Mr. Tad C. Reid, superintendent of operations at the College, will be in charge of the work which will be carried on by certified WPA labor. Mr. Reid has already asked for qualified men from the Maryville WPA office.

Mr. Reid expects the project to get under way this week, or as soon as men can be obtained and machinery can be set up for operation.

The full cooperation of the district and state WPA offices has been received by the College. Mr. Reid pointed out last week. He said that the application for the project had received the approval of those WPA offices.

Improvement of athletic facilities at the College will be included in the WPA project. Tennis courts and a baseball field will be constructed, the athletic field will be graded, bleachers will be erected on the football field, and the athletic track will be re-cindered.

College grounds will be graded and leveled, the lake will be graded, stumps and dead trees will be removed from the College park, roads and sidewalks will be improved and incidental work will be performed, such as installing a sewer, performing work on the lake dam and building fences.

Graduation exercises each June represent an annual turnover of approximately $20,000,000 in direct expenses.

Handicraft Projects Display at STC

An exhibit of various handicraft projects done by WPA workers of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, was placed on display the first of last week on the fourth floor of the College administration building.

The exhibit, consisting of tapestries, wooden toys, and books, was brought back from Milwaukee by Olive S. DeLuce, chairman of the department of the College, who attended a meeting of the Western Arts Association held there from April 20 to April 23.

While at Milwaukee, Miss DeLuce visited the PWA handicraft center where she secured the exhibit. The articles in the exhibit were made by PWA workers, who

MOTHER'S DAY

Tomorrow is Mother's Day at the College.

Mothers of students here will come to spend the day in Maryville as guests of the College and of their sons and daughters in this institution. The College has prepared a worthwhile program for the entertainment of our guests, and it is hoped that a large number may attend.

Committees in charge of Mother's Day feel that the maternal parents of students here have sacrificed more than can ever be said, and because of those sacrifices, men and women in the College have advanced in society. As a partial—a meager—return payment, students here have the opportunity of honoring their mothers at the College's annual Mother's Day programs.

The program has been outlined, and it is the hope of the College that the mothers will enjoy their one-day stay in Maryville.

MAY FESTIVAL WEEK

This week is May Festival Week at the College. Each year the music and physical education departments get together on a program which continues for several days during the week with a variety of entertainment. The committee in charge of the annual affair this year has worked for several weeks toward making the performance successful, and the programs that have already been presented indicate that their efforts have not been in vain.

It is a treat—or should be considered as such—to the students to have the opportunity of seeing and hearing the outstanding entertainments this week. Fellow students, under the proper guidance of faculty members, perform on the auditorium stage with indications of a certain mastery of their individual undertakings. Most of us appreciate as much—if not more—the performances of people of our acquaintance as of people we know only by name.

The opportunity to perform before an audience here is good experience for the entertainers. It is bound to aid them in overcoming certain difficulties met with in public appearances and to aid them in becoming acquainted with certain duties which will confront them after leaving school.

Last year's May Festival Week was an entire success, and it appears that the one this year will follow suit.

PERSONALITY

"The richest mine in the world is the one within yourself." This "richest mine" is yourself, your personality. But just what is the meaning of personality? As often as one hears this word, as much as it is used, it is still defined in nearly as many ways as there are people who use the word.

"The balanced perfection of a healthy and beautiful mind, soul, and body," is the definition of Bliss Carmen. One is not particularly conscious of the personality of those whom he meets unless that person is the possessor of a personality, distinctive and magnetic, or of a personality that is somehow deficient or inadequate.

Numerous books and articles have been written on the subject of the development of a pleasing personality. But by studying those whom one is especially attracted to reveals much about personality.

One of the primary personality traits might be a healthy mind. A mind free from worry, from petty grievances, pessimism, is a good guarantee of a pleasant disposition. And a pleasant disposition is the best means of making people like you.

Of course, one must appreciate the truth of the maxim, "A healthy mind in a healthy body." If we take the best of care of our physical health, our mental health is much more easily achieved.

Therefore, if one makes the most of his collegiate opportunities, here at school, he can begin at the bottom and work up the ladder of success to an outstanding personality. And the bottom rung of the ladder is a genuine desire to reach the top, the second is physical fitness, the third follows the second, mental health, and so on to the top, a true and distinctive personality.

CAMPUS COMMENT

Last Friday night a guest and Ye Ed were guests of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority at its annual spring formal dance at the Maryville Country Club, and were indeed shown a maximum of true collegiate hospitality. The sorority women were especially attentive and considerate of each and every guest present, and the guests were sincerely appreciative. It would be an ideal situation if every organization would entertain its guests at a social function in the manner in which the Alpha Sigs did last Friday night. That evening it was "Gardenias to the guests of the sorority women," and now it's "Orchids to the Alpha Sigs for their generosity at an exceptional dance."

The College has been doing its part in aiding Maryville in her dandelion riddance drive. The administration has hired several men in the College to dig the "yellow pests," and they have been doing a fine job in eradicating the plants. Perhaps we students could do our bit by plucking and destroying heads of the plants every day.

President Lamkin last week announced that it was quite possible that the College would receive funds to aid in the construction of a new library building. It would be a wonderful asset to this institution and its campus to have such a building erected here, and our hopes are that the administration is successful in its attempts to get the sufficient funds.

"Spring has sprung," and again the campus is in its annual Springtime beauty.

* * * * *

We notice by our exchanges that the College here is not the only one which was dissatisfied with its old Constitution. For some time, according to the Rockhurst Sentinel, the students in Rockhurst college of Kansas City have been discussing and preparing a document and are about ready to submit it to the student body at large for its approval.

A mid-term sentiment heard a couple of weeks ago on the campus: "It's a great life if someone don't flunk you."

"Good English is that which will pass current in any part of the English speaking world, will please cultivated listeners and will not disclose too much native or geographical origins." This new definition of Northwestern University's Ralph Dennis is a speech standardizer.

The WRITERS' NOON

Writing is an art. He who would express himself must find a medium. The painter must cultivate the art of painting. The musician must cultivate the art of music. He who would express himself in writing must cultivate the art of writing.

YOUR GUESS IS AS GOOD AS MINE

One of two things I must have
If I'm to go through this spring alone!
One a cold heart carved out of Hard and unyielding stone;
The other that your love be true,
So faithful, strong, and deep,
That it could compel my thoughts
to you,
And let other memories sleep.
One of these could keep me safe
From other loves while we're apart,
From smiling boys with laughing eyes
Taking pot-shots at my heart!
But my heart is not of stone,
And you, my love, are not so true.
Will I spend this spring alone?
What do you suppose I'll do?
—Ana Virginia Benitez

NO EXIT

And I sit
Like a monk holding asceticism
To me as a guard against reality;
Only there are no robes to dignify
These feeble thoughts.

Books I have, yes,
Piled about, mutely concealing
Their printed truths
Between worn covers;
Their variety of knowledges
Forming an unimpaired mural,
Their moods and attitudes
Prattling a minor fugue, Twisting life notes into
A heavy bass clef.
Monastery I have not.
This room with its four
Brown walls is cell enough,
The cold and damp of stones
Is found in the still desolateness
Of my mind restlessly turning
But finding no exit.
—D. Young

DEEP NIGHT

Jagged edges of glass thought
Grinding the nerves relentlessly,
Taking swift thrusts
At the night hours,
Thwarting all sleep,
Perching on the edge
Of consciousness
Like crouching gargoyles,
Ever watching.
Clear crystal thought persisting
In the deep night.
—D. Young

SURF

Greenish white foaming waters
In turmoil dash against the cliffs
And break again in limping spray Billowing the waves over rocky ledges.
Perilous bluish restless waves
Splash furiously with the surge
And moan with utter desolateness
And ceaselessly remain, unconquered surf.
Lurline Stevens

PERSONALITY

Beware, because of personality,
Caesar was killed!
Because of personality John Dill-inger's body was drilled.
That's what made Mae West a hit;
Sally Rand was clothed in it.
God just put it in people for better or worse,
But the undertaker leaves it out when he puts you in the hearse.
—E. F. Lamison

NOT JUST LIVING

I don't want to live just to be living,
Nor to be taking and never giving.
To me, God and smiles go hand in hand,
And many devils own the frowning man.
—Edna Frances Lamison

AN APOLOGY FOR WRITING

I write because of some innate sire,
Some longing, some passion d
imbedded in my soul
That can be satisfied by it alone

With rare exquisiteness paper tens;
It is neither shocked nor ridicul
Neither sympathizing, nor pity

No selfishness, no fickleness, paper,
No probing, no poking, no inquir
Nothing to signify it has ever he

What more could one wish from best of friends.
A paper to me is as the day to night
As the worldly man's friend is his heart.

—Edna Frances Lamison

TO A DEAD FRIEND

For one mad moment
I saw you again—
I saw you in the blur of an person
As he went to shut the door.
—Edna Frances Lamison

SEARCHING

Green mosses mold the bank
Into waves of velvet carpet;
Delicate leaves cast their shade
Over the earth's bright visage;
The boisterous frog gives his th
croak,
The ravine echoes and mock calls.
Tempting waters trickle and
Their joyous trills to the soft
That carries the melody lightly
And brings the call to me—"Hark and hasten"—falls on m
And I search quite faithfully
Until I find that remote spot Where the streamlet eddies in
—Lurline Stevens

SPRING SCENE

Out of city windows
Bare arms leaning on the ledge
Idly they sit.
Spring sun gleaming on the ment,
Slanting on the tipping ter
tops,
Slowly bronzing cast off pape
In the sluggish empty lots;
Spring grass pushing up und Crouching from the heavy f
Sparse and straggling in app
Looking up toward skyline
And they sit in city window
Watching mail planes dronin
Quite complacent, unconcern
About the hawkers vigorous Urchins in earnest combat,
And the traffic din.
—D.

RECEIPE FOR CITY HE

Thunder your revolutiona

The Stroller

Say, Herschel Neil, is that young lass you're going with now just kidding you, or are you kidding her?

Doesn't Dopey Mitchell look better this week. There wasn't any Spring Contests last week-end.

Say, how about the rumor that the "little Weeda" is going to hang his frat pin on the little "Red-head" that he has been seen with? Also, wonder how "big Weeda" is making it out?

Surprise of surprises! Where has Henry Turner's frat pin disappeared to?

Now that Breidenthal has gone and done it, I wonder who will be next?

Was Beulah Harmon surprised the other evening when she found that the "Doodle Bug" has become athletically minded and tried to come into the gym.

Say, Durine Riddle, whom are you going to give your picture to now? That is, the one you got back from Henry.

Now since the little woman is back in school, Paul Greene has turned caveman. I bet its that engergy he has been storing up all winter.

Has something happened to the Ford, Mr. Driftmier, or was that just your cousin you were with the other day?

Albert Myers believes in safety in numbers, evidently. One girl is

"HELL-DAY" CUT AT WASHINGTON AND JEFFERSON

Washington, Pa.—(ACP)—"Hell-Day," that period of physical torment which every pledge must undergo before being initiated into a social fraternity at Washington and Jefferson College, has been reduced in length from 24 hours to 12 hours by action of the interfraternity council.

The move, hailed as a significant step toward the complete abolition of the annual ordeal as demanded by the national offices of eight of the nine groups on the campus, was motivated by repeated protests by students, parents, faculty, administration and townspeople.

Repeated violations, said a council spokesman, of the 24 hour rule, cut recently from a seven-day period, aggravated the situation. The motion met with practically no opposition on the part of the council members.

Mr. Dorrough Talks To Y on Philosophy

The last regular meeting of the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. for the school year was held Wednesday, April 27, at the College "Y" hut. The program consisted of special music furnished by the College music department, the final discussion of the series on the study of the personality of Jesus Christ led by Mr. Dwight Dorrough of the English faculty, and refreshments.

"Jesus does have a place in the world today," Mr. Dorrough told the group. "But there are many things which even He cannot contribute.

"Jesus gives us our clearest concept of God," Mr. Dorrough continued. "He also gives us a deeper appreciation of human personality and a better idea about war and peace. He also gives us a political philosophy.

"Students should begin to formulate a philosophy of life while in college," the speaker stressed. "We have but one life to live. It is well to live that life carefully. In our search for ideas and suggestions of how to live that better life, we will find a great deal of help by studying the personality of Jesus from the standpoint of the individual and the state."

'Honors' Ford Bradley

Ford Bradley, a graduate of the College in the class of 1935 and now instructor in the Poplar Bluff public school system, last week was honored with a pen sketch of himself together with a feature story concerning his hobby in the Junior Hi-Life, mimeographed newspaper published by Poplar Bluff Junior High school.

The paper was brought to this office this week by Mr. Homer T. Phillips, chairman of the education department of the College, who received the addition in Monday's mail.

The feature follows:

Of all the peculiar hobbies that have been mentioned this year, Mr. Bradley's "takes the cake." One couldn't guess by looking at him just what his hobby is, but it only takes a short time to make the discovery when any meal time comes.

Hence, it goes without saying that eating is Mr. Bradley's hobby. Some people eat to live, but evidently Mr. Bradley lives to eat.

"But what does Mr. Bradley like to eat?" some one may ask. He especially likes eggs. If it's anything he likes it's "more eggs." His likes are not confined to eggs, however. It's anything that's good to eat.

Anyway, Mr. Bradley has unquestionably a coveted hobby by some. It is one that will likely stay with him and remain a "vital" problem in his life.

Mr. Bradley, assistant principal of Junior high, is from Maryville, Mo. He received his Bachelor's degree from the Teachers College at Maryville. He came here last year as teacher of English and history.

THE SEVEN WHO FLED

The seven who fled
Stampeding the night
With delirious echoes,
Knowing no end of fear,
Feeling only the tense
And quivering muscles,
Are not alone.
This is no Russian tragedy.
There are mobs of us
Asking for all
And receiving nothing;
And the shadow hand of power
Gives and takes equally,
Being not honor bound.
There are millions lonely
Holding hollow silence
In their bare cupped palms
In the aching stillness
Of night.

The seven who fled,
Being made outcasts,
Knowing no end of fear,
And shot through with loneliness
Are not alone.

SEC. ICKES SAYS TOO MANY PROFS. RECLUSES

Chicago, Ill.—(ACP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, in a talk before the Association of American Colleges, said that education is an indispensable tool of democracy and that "the real threat to all democracies everywhere, is Fascism."

Criticizing the present procedure of colleges, Mr. Ickes said that they have been taking the young men and women of America and have been making out of them ex-football stars, budding "men-about-town," bond salesmen and "just engineers, just doctors, and just lawyers."

"A social outlook, a sense of obligation to the state, coupled with a willingness to serve the state, ought to be inculcated in every youth," he said.

"The colleges have themselves to thank for the sporadic 'Red hunts' to which they are subjected," he said. "I cannot escape the conviction that...if they were more concerned about turning out socially trained men and women the 'Red hunts' would be rare indeed."

"The real trouble with so many of our faculties," he concluded, "is that...too many of our professors become recluses."

University of Georgia journalism reporting students in the winter quarter wrote 113,375 words that appeared in print in newspapers.

Bearcats Rank High In Baseball Circles of Missouri

Local Nine Defeat Conception at Rockhurst in Two Games in Past Week

The Maryville baseball squad asserted its right to be classed among the top-notch college squads of the state during the past week when they downed Rockhurst and Conception on Tuesday and Saturday respectively. The Rockhurst game ended 9 to 1, Maryville, the contest being "put on the ice" when the Bearcats pushed over five tallies in the ninth inning. At Conception last Saturday, the 'Cats were in command from the first inning and won easily 19 to 3.

The Rockhurst game, played at Kansas City, was sweet revenge for Coach Milner's boys, having lost Rockhurst a week ago, 6 to 3.

Three hit pitching by Derry whiffed nine of the Hawk batsmen was a prominent factor in the Bearcat victory. Only in the third inning when they pushed over their one run could the Rockhurst clubbers solve the slants of the Maryville hurler.

Leading by a score of 4 to 1 going into the last frame, the Maryville club combined hits with williness on the part of Bergman, Rockhurst pitcher, to score five runs. Maryville played with the break scoring nine runs on eight hits.

In the game with Conception Don Johnson and Campbell pitched the Bluebirds into submission as they coasted behind a big lead throughout.

Running score of the Rockhurst game:

Maryville ..... 002 000 0
Rockhurst ..... 001 000 0

Batteries: Maryville—Derry and Kurtright; Rockhurst—J. Bergman and Kobay.

Views of the News

views in Education:

schools on teaching of social science at educational institutions must be lifted if the United States is to maintain a democracy and escape the threat toward dictatorships according to Professor John Ise of the University of Kansas. "Society could along with poorer music," Ise said. "If people said, 'had went,' no atmosphere would result. But when people does not know its political economy and economics it is headed toward barbarism.

Both sides of the arguments regarding communism, socialism and fascism should be taught to students by the teacher who does that does-not last long. The teachers of social science can discuss only the things of no importance if they want to keep their jobs.

Religion, sex, economic inequalities are all taboo. Of course we can study Aristotle if we don't go into his defense of socialism. We can discuss Jefferson but we must stay off Franklin Roosevelt because people are interested in him. It's best to be innocuous because if you don't have any ideas you won't be in any danger of expressing them and so you will keep getting salary rises and maybe even arrive at a position of administrative greatness."

He predicted that when, and if,
Fascism dominates Europe there would be little chance of the United States remaining a democracy. He said that Italy, Germany, Austria, Poland and Hungary were Fascist countries now. Spain will probably go fascist and England is virtually fascist.

A Doctor's Trust:

A prominent doctor's charge that the American Medical Association is dominated by an attitude of "stand-patism" opened a fresh schism today in the nation's medical ranks. The charge was made by Dr. James H.
Means of the Harvard Medical School in his annual address as president of the American College of Physicians. His attack was made because of the opposition of the A.M.A. to state and federal aid in medical care.

"The behavior of the American Medical Association is political," Dr.
Means asserted. "It is partisan behavior." Means said that while the medical association called itself "Organized medicine," the laity called it a "doctor's trust." "The association is allowing the medical politicians to run things about as they please,"
he said.

It is interesting to note that the new changes coming about are splitting all of the old orthodox organizations. There is today a split in labor ranks, in lawyer organizations, in religious groups and educational groups.

Oil Seizures in Mexico:

While big capitalists in this country and England are growing about their loss of exploitation methods in Mexico it is interesting to note what a native of Mexico, now living in St. Joseph, and a personal friend of this writer has to say about the matter.

Joseph Martin, well informed on Mexican affairs and a former employee of two of the larger foreign oil companies in Tampico, declared that four major companies fought like "wolves" for possession of the richest oil deposits and that property titles were acquired by the "biggest wolf."

Harking to the revolutionary period of 1910 which resulted in the overthrow of President Diaz, Martin said that oil companies had joined hands then and paid one revolutionary general. "Why, oil companies have financed revolutions," he declared. "De la Huerta was in league with British oil interests. If the president is too hard on them, then the oil companies want to get another president."

The expropriation of the oil property was viewed by Martin as a step toward accomplishment of a Mexican program of national improvement. Change of capital ownership from foreign to native hands, breaking up of large estates which are operated on a more or less feudal system and the stripping of material and political powers from the Catholic church are included in the program, Martin said. "President Cardenas is a man of the people and whatever he does he thinks he is working in the best interests of the people," he said.

Students spend more money for meat, eggs and poultry than for any other group of food.

Harvard University has discovered that its students are growing taller at the rate of one inch every 32 years.

"Jeanie" Is Surprised

Miss Benitez was agreeably surprised last Saturday morning when she was told that her poem had been awarded first place. When she saw in Saturday morning's edition of the Kansas City Times that her poem had won, she exclaimed, "Why, you didn't even tell me that it was entered."

Following is the poem as it appeared in The Missourian of March 24 and which was entered in the contest a few weeks ago:

GIRL FROM THE TROPICS
Speak not to me of the loveliness of spring.

From whence I came there was no winter
And no spring.

I knew no winter...now I know
It is the winter of my heart.
The rivers of my love are frozen
And tears like cold waters flow...

Underneath the surface.
Thoughts like cold winds shake at the trees of memory
One by one lost dreams crash down
Like ice-laden branches.

Speak not to me of the loveliness of spring.

I knew no winter, now I know.

I know no spring...and I am afraid.

—Ana Virginia Benitez

Miss Benitez will probably receive a medal in the near future for her poem which won the honor at Columbia. Announcement of the winners was made at a banquet of the MCNA in the University city last Friday evening.
